

The diagram is a detailed map of a city grid, likely a historical or planning map. It features a dense network of streets forming a grid pattern. The streets are labeled with names, and there are several large, irregular shapes that represent parks or other non-building areas. The overall layout is a dense, rectangular grid with some variations in block size and shape. The map is oriented with North at the top, and the streets are labeled with names. The grid is composed of many small squares, each representing a block. The streets are labeled with names, and there are several large, irregular shapes that represent parks or other non-building areas.
